
PUBLICITY RELEASE

Morehouse Publishing will launch its first full-length digital children's book, Pia and the Magic Ribbon in English on December 1, 2014.

The German version will be released December, 2014.

Illustration Credit: Philippe Boonen

Pia and the Magic Ribbon is part one of a trilogy of Pia's Tales. This first volume immerses us in Pia's thrilling journey of discovery after she moves with her multicultural family to a new home in London. Pia's metropolitan parents are busy with their work. But she uses her own vivid imagination to gain the knowledge and confidence to make her way in a strange city, and to discover fantastic new worlds.

This story of a 10-year old girl's adventures is a modern fairytale. In Pia's waking world she is the new girl at school, who gets swept up in a bid to unravel a great mystery from England's ancient past. And Pia's Dreamworld is the one that she enters at night with a magic ribbon that her Grandmother (Gram) gives her on her birthday. There she meets a cast of larger-than-life characters who take her on a set of heart-stopping adventures

About the authors

D.C. Morehouse is a German-American of Turkish origin. She founded Morehouse Publishing in 2010 in order to produce modern fairytales for dreamers of all ages.

William F M Horsley is a writer, journalist and broadcaster who lives in London, quite close to the place where infinity begins.

Contact

morehouse.publishing@googlemail.com

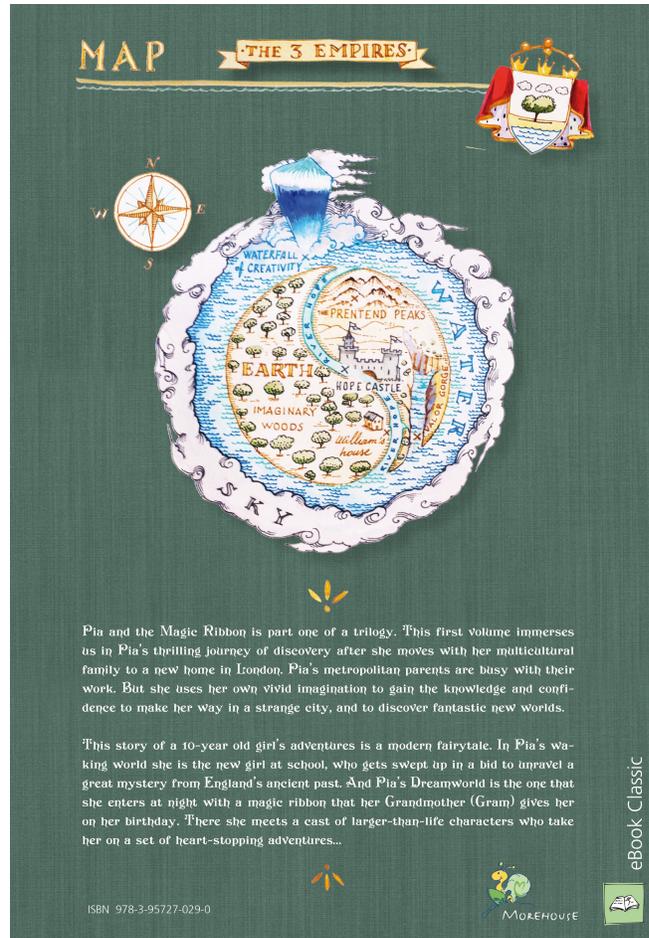

@MorehousePub

To publishers, reviewers and trade: We will be very pleased to send you a sample eBook of Pia and the Magic Ribbon on request.

Warm wishes,

Christal Morehouse

Morehouse Publishing creates modern fairytales for dreamers of all ages

Dreamworld is made up of the Tri-Empires: Water, Earth and Sky.